General Information

California has established three types of economic development areas that have related tax incentives:

- enterprise zones;
- program areas; and
- the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (LARZ).

A business may qualify for special deductions and credits if it operates or invests in a trade or business located within the geographical boundaries of one of these economic development areas.

Note: For information about the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone tax incentives, get form FTB 3806, Los Angeles Revitalization Zone Booklet.

A Purpose

Use this booklet to determine the correct amount of deductions and credits that the business may claim for operating or investing in a trade or business within an enterprise zone or program area. Complete the worksheets in this booklet for each deduction or credit for which the business is eligible. Then enter the total deductions and credits on form FTB 3805Z, Enterprise Zone/Program Area Deduction and Credit Summary.

B How to Claim Deductions and Credits

To claim any deduction or credit, the business must attach form FTB 3805Z (included in this booklet) to its California tax return. Attach a separate form FTB 3805Z for each enterprise zone or program area the business operates or invests in.

To assist with the processing of the tax return, indicate that the business operates or invests within an enterprise zone/program area by doing the following:

Form 540 filers: Write "EZ/PA" in the top margin of Side 1 of Form 540.

All others: Check the "yes" box for the enterprise zone, program area or Los Angeles Revitalization Zone question on the top of Side 1 of the tax return.

Note: Be sure to keep all completed worksheets and supporting documents for your records.

C Survey

An informational survey is included in this booklet. Please take the time to fill it out, fold as indicated on the back, tape it closed, add postage and mail it to the Franchise Tax Board, Research Bureau. The purpose of this survey is to gather information regarding how many businesses are using the tax incentives, which incentives the businesses are using and in which economic development areas they are using them. This information will help the California Legislature make future decisions regarding enterprise zones and program areas.

D Enterprise Zones

Enterprise zones were established in California to stimulate development in selected economically depressed areas. The Enterprise Zone Act provides special tax incentives for entities and individuals who operate or invest in a business located within a designated enterprise zone.

Businesses operating within an enterprise zone do not need to qualify or receive prior approval to take advantage of these special tax incentives. For more information, get FTB Pub. 1047, Guidelines for Enterprise Zone Tax Incentives, or call the California Trade and Commerce Agency at (916) 324-8211.

Portions of the following areas were officially designated by the California Trade and Commerce Agency as enterprise zones on the dates shown.

E Program Areas

Program areas were established in California to stimulate business in selected areas with high levels of unemployment. A qualified business operating within a program area is entitled to special tax incentives.

A "qualified business" is a business located in a program area and certified by the California Trade and Commerce Agency as meeting specified standards based on its work force in the program area during the taxable or income year. For more information, get FTB Pub. 1048, Guidelines for Program Area Tax Incentives, or call the California Trade and Commerce Agency at (916) 324-8211.

F Important Considerations

Enterprise zone and program area tax incentives apply only to investments and business activities undertaken within the zone or area after the enterprise zone or program area receives final designation. In the case of a program area, the business must also receive final certification as a qualified business before any tax incentives apply.

Expansion. This requirement also applies to any expansion of the existing enterprise zone or program area boundaries. Thus, the business is eligible for the tax incentives only after the expansion receives final designation.

G Geographic Boundaries

The geographic boundaries of an enterprise zone or program area are used to determine whether tax incentives are available to a business in a specified location. Further information about the geographic boundaries of an enterprise zone or program area and certification of a program area business is available from:

California Trade and Commerce Agency
Attention: Enterprise Zone Programs

If your business is located within and outside an enterprise zone or program area, see Part VI on page 13 for instructions on how to allocate income.

Part I Hiring Credit

Enterprise Zones

Employers conducting a trade or business inside an enterprise zone may claim the hiring credit for a new employee who:

- was hired after the enterprise zone received its final designation (see General Information D);
- spends at least 90 percent of work time on activities directly related to the conduct of a trade or business located within an enterprise zone;
- performs at least 50 percent of the work within the boundaries of the enterprise zone; and
- was certified at the time of hire as either:
 1. receiving subsidized employment, training or services under the terms of the federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA); or
 2. registered under Greater Avenues for Independence Act (GAIN); or
 3. certified under the federal Targeted Jobs Tax Credit Program (TJTC).

The amount of wages used to calculate the credit computation depends on the number of months the employee works for the employer in the enterprise zone.

Program Areas

Employers that conduct a qualified trade or business within a program area may claim the hiring credit for a portion of the wages paid to employees who, at the time of hire:

- were residents of a high density unemployment area; and
- were unemployed for three months or more.

An employer may also claim a credit for the portion of wages paid to a qualified employee that is hired no more than 90 days prior to certification as a qualified business by the California Trade and Commerce Agency.

The amount of wages used to calculate the credit depends on the number of months the employee was unemployed and the number of months the employee works for the employer in the program area.

Participation by a prospective employee in a state or federally funded job training or work demonstration program does not constitute employment, nor does it affect the eligibility of an otherwise qualified employee.

Enterprise Zones and Program Areas

The credit is based on the lesser of the following:

- the actual hourly rate paid or incurred by the employer for work performed by the employee during the taxable or income year;
- $6.37 (150 percent of the minimum hourly wage (currently $4.25) established by the Industrial Welfare Commission).

Record Keeping. For each qualified employee, keep a schedule, for the first 60 months (5 years) of employment, showing:

- employee name;
- date employee was hired;
- number of hours employee worked per month;
- the hourly rate of pay for each month; and

- qualified wages per month.

Example:

John Doe July 1, 1994

Month	Hours	x Hourly Rate	= Qualified Wages
1	170	$6.00	$1,020.00
2	175	6.25	1,093.75
3	172	6.37*	1,095.64
Continue to 60

*John's hourly rate is $6.50, however the hourly rate is limited to 150 percent of the minimum wage ($6.37).

Credit Limitations. The business must reduce this credit by any federal or state jobs credit allowed for the same qualified individual(s).

The business must also reduce any deduction for wages by the amount of the hiring credit. S corporations must reduce their wage deduction by one-third of the amount on Worksheet I, line 6. Make the wage deduction adjustment on Form 100S, Side 1, line 7. In addition, the S corporation must add the entire amount of the credit on Schedule K, line 1, column C.

Example: In 1994, an S corporation earned a $3,000 enterprise zone hiring credit. The S corporation must reduce its wage deduction by $1,000 ($3,000 x 1/3). On Schedule K, line 1, column C, the S corporation would add $3,000 to the corporation's ordinary income or loss.

For additional information about the treatment of credits for S corporations, see Part VII on page 15.

The amount of hiring credit claimed may not exceed the amount of tax on the enterprise zone or program area income in any year. Use Worksheet VII on Side 2 of form FTB 3805Z to compute the credit limitation.

The business may carry over any unused hiring credit to future years until the credit is used.

Instructions for Worksheet I — Hiring Credit

Section A — Credit Computation

Line 1, column (a) – Enter the name of each qualified employee.

Line 1, column (b) through column (f) – Enter the qualified wages paid to each employee in the appropriate column. Enter wages paid to the employee during the first year of employment in column (b). Enter wages paid during the second year of employment in column (c). Enter wages paid during the third year of employment in column (d). Enter wages paid during the fourth year of employment in column (e). Enter wages paid during the fifth year of employment in column (f).

Example. If you are a 1994 calendar year taxpayer and you hired an employee on 6/1/93, you would enter the total qualified wages paid to the employee for the period beginning 1/1/94 and ending 5/31/94 in column (b). You would enter the total qualified wages paid to the employee for the period beginning 6/1/94 and ending 12/31/94 in column (c).

(a) Employee Name	(b) 1st 12 months	(c) 2nd 12 months
John Doe	Amount of qualified wages earned from 1/1/94 to 5/31/94*	Amount of qualified wages earned from 6/1/94 through 12/31/94.

* The qualified wages from 6/1/93 to 12/31/93 were put in column (b) on the 1993 worksheet.

Line 2, column (b) through column (f) – Add the amounts in each column.

Line 3, column (b) through column (f) – Multiply the total in each column of line 2, by the percentage in each column. Exception for program area businesses: The percentage of qualified wages used to calculate the hiring credit for the employee's first 12 months of employment is determined by the number of months the employee was unemployed prior to being hired.

Use the chart below to determine the percentage to use in column (b):

Months Unemployed	Column (b) Percentage
0 – 3	0 Does not Qualify
3 – 6	.25
6 – 12	.50

Line 4 – Add the amounts on line 3, column (b) through column (f).

Line 5 – Jobs credits are figured on the following forms:

- federal Form 5884, Jobs Credits; or
- federal Form 3800, General Business Credit; and
- California form FTB 3524, Jobs Credit.

Line 6 – Subtract line 5 from line 4. Enter this amount on line 6 and on Worksheet VII, line 8.

Section B – Credit Recapture

Credit Recapture. If the employer terminates an employee at any time during the first 270 days of employment (whether or not consecutive) or before the close of the 270th calendar day after the day the employee completes 90 days of employment, the employer must recapture the amount of credit attributable to that employee's wages.

The employer must add to the current year's tax the amount of credit claimed in the year of termination and all prior years attributable to the terminated employee.

Note: The credit recapture does not apply if the termination of employment was:

- voluntary on the part of the employee;
- in response to misconduct of the employee;
- caused by the employee becoming disabled, (unless the employee was able to return to work and the employer did not offer to re-employ the individual);
- carried out so that other qualified individuals could be hired, creating a net increase in both the number of qualified employees and their hours worked; or

- due to a substantial reduction in the employer's trade or business operations.

Line 1, column (a) – Enter the name of the terminated employee. Attach additional schedules if necessary.

Line 1, column (b) and column (c) – Enter the amount of credit recapture for each employee. If the employee was employed in an enterprise zone, enter the amount in column (b). If the employee was employed in a program area, enter the amount in column (c).

Line 2 – Add the amounts in column (b) and column (c). Enter the amount from line 2, column (b) on form FTB 3805Z, line 6. Enter the amount from line 2, column (c) on form FTB 3805Z, line 7.

Include the amount of hiring credit recapture on your tax return as follows:

- Form 100, Side 2, Schedule J;
- Form 100S, Side 2, Schedule J;
- Form 109, Side 4, Schedule K; or
- Form 540, line 36.

Indicate that you included the hiring credit recapture on your tax return by writing "FTB 3805Z" in the space provided on the schedule or form.

S corporations and their shareholders must recapture the portion of credit that was previously claimed, based on the terminated employee's wages. S corporations must also identify the recapture amount for shareholders on Schedule K-1 (100S). This amount will differ from the amount recaptured by the S corporation on Form 100S, Side 2, Schedule J.

Part II Sales and Use Tax Credit

Enterprise Zones and Program Areas

Individuals, partnerships and limited liability companies may claim a credit equal to the sales or use tax paid or incurred to purchase the first $1 million of qualified machinery. Corporations may claim a credit equal to the sales or use taxes paid or incurred to purchase the first $20 million of qualified machinery.

Qualified machinery is the machinery or machinery parts used to:

- manufacture, process, combine or otherwise assemble a product;
- produce renewable energy resources; or
- control air or water pollution.

The business must use the machinery exclusively within the boundaries of the enterprise zone or program area.

Use tax paid on purchases of machinery outside California qualify for the credit only if machinery of a comparable quality and price was not available in California at the time it was needed.

Limitation. The amount of sales and use tax credit claimed may not exceed the amount of tax on the enterprise zone or program area income in any year. After completing Worksheet II (below), use Worksheet VII on Side 2 of form FTB 3805Z to compute the credit limitation.

Any unused credit may be carried over and applied against the tax on enterprise zone or program area income in future years.

Depreciation. To calculate California depreciation, the business must reduce the cost basis of the machinery by any sales and use tax credit claimed.

To compute the difference between California and federal depreciation use the following forms:

- Form 100 filers – FTB 3885, Corporation Depreciation and Amortization;
- Form 100S filers – Schedule B, S Corporation Depreciation and Amortization; or
- Form 540 filers – FTB 3885A, Depreciation and Amortization Adjustments.

Line 2, column (d) – Add the amounts in column (d). Enter the total here and on Worksheet VII, line 9.

Caution: Only the sales and use tax paid on the cost of machinery up to the limitations on column (c) may be claimed as a credit.

Part III Business Expense Deduction

Enterprise Zones

Businesses conducting a trade or business within an enterprise zone may elect to treat a portion of the cost of qualified property as a business expense rather than a capital expense. For the year the property is placed in service, the business may deduct the cost in that year rather than depreciate it over several years.

Qualified property includes IRC Section 1245 property, which includes, but is not limited to, tangible personal property (excluding buildings), most equipment, and furnishings acquired by purchase for exclusive use within an enterprise zone. Office supplies and other small nondepreciable items are not included.

The maximum aggregate deduction the business may claim in any taxable or income year is determined by the number of years which have elapsed since the enterprise zone received final designation. See Worksheet III, Section A, for the limitations, and General Information D for the designation dates.

Note: For businesses located in the expansion area of an enterprise zone, the amount of the deduction is determined by using the original enterprise zone designation date.

Program Areas

Businesses conducting a qualified trade or business within a program area may elect to treat 40 percent of the eligible cost of qualified property as a business expense rather than a capital expense. For the year the property is placed in service, the business may deduct the cost in the current year rather than depreciate it over several years.

Qualified property consists of:

- machinery and machinery parts purchased to:
 1. manufacture, process, combine or otherwise assemble a product;
 2. produce renewable energy resources; or
 3. control air or water pollution; and
- other depreciable property that is used as an integral part of a qualified business operating within a program area.

The maximum aggregate cost applicable to the 40 percent deduction the business may claim in any taxable or income year is determined by the number of years which have elapsed since the program area received its final designation. See Worksheet III, Section B, for the limitations, and General Information E for the designation dates.

Note: For businesses located in the expansion area of a program area, the amount of the deduction is determined by using the original program area designation date.

Enterprise Zones and Program Areas

The business must elect to treat the cost of qualified property as a business expense in the year the property is first placed in service. However, this election is not allowed if the property was:

- transferred between members of an affiliated group;
- acquired as a gift or inherited;
- traded for other property;
- received from a personal or business relation as defined in IRC Section 267; or
- described in IRC Section 168(f).

A husband and wife filing separate returns may each claim one-half of the allowable deduction. In the case of a partnership, the dollar limitation applies to the partnership and to each partner.

Depreciation. If the business elects to deduct the amount computed in Worksheet III, Section A or Section B, as a business expense, and if less than 100 percent of the cost of the property is deducted, the depreciable basis of the property must be reduced by the deduction. Subtract the amount claimed as a business expense from the basis or cost of the property and claim depreciation for the remaining basis or cost.

The deduction allowed under IRC Section 179 does not apply. Corporations may not claim the additional first-year depreciation allowed under R&TC Section 24356 on any item of property if any portion of it was deducted as a business expense.

To compute the difference between California and federal depreciation use the following forms:

- Form 100 filers – FTB 3885, Corporation Depreciation and Amortization;
- Form 100S filers – Schedule B, S Corporation Depreciation and Amortization; or
- Form 540 filers – FTB 3885A, Depreciation and Amortization Adjustments.

Part IV Net Interest Deduction for Lenders

Enterprise Zones and Program Areas

A deduction from income is allowed for the amount of net interest received from loans made to a trade or business located within an enterprise zone or program area.

Net interest is defined as the full amount of interest received, less any direct expenses incurred in making the loan. Examples of direct expenses include, but are not limited to:

- commissions paid to a loan representative; and
- the cost of money incurred in funding the loan.

Types of loans that qualify for this deduction include business loans, mortgages, and loans from noncommercial sources. The following requirements must be met to qualify for the deduction:

- the loan must be made to a trade or business located solely within an enterprise zone or program area;

- the money lent must be used strictly for the business activities within the enterprise zone or program area;
- the lender may not have equity or other ownership interest in the trade or business; and
- the loan must be made after the enterprise zone or program area was designated.

Note: For businesses located within a program area, the loan must be made in a taxable or income year after the business received certification as a qualified business by the California Trade and Commerce Agency.

Example: You lend $5,000 to an enterprise zone business that meets the requirements listed above. You receive $550 in interest and incur $300 in expenses directly related to the loan. You may deduct $250 ($550 - $300) of net interest from your taxable income.

Record Keeping. You should maintain records for each loan showing:

- the identity and location of the trade or business to which you lent the money;

- the amount of the loan, interest received and any direct expenses associated with the loan; and
- the use of the loan.

Instructions for Worksheet IV — Net Interest Deduction for Lenders

Part V Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and Loss Limitations

An NOL generated by a business that operates or invests within an enterprise zone or program area can be carried forward for 15 years but may not be carried back. In addition, up to 100 percent of the NOL generated in an enterprise zone or program area can be carried forward.

The business cannot generate NOLs from activities within the enterprise zone or program area until the first taxable or income year beginning on or after the date the enterprise zone is officially designated, or after the date the business is certified as a qualified business within a program area. See General Information D and E for designation dates.

Limitation. An enterprise zone or program area NOL deduction can only offset income attributable to business activities within the enterprise zone or program area.

Election. Businesses must elect the carryover category (general or specific, enterprise zone, program area or LARZ NOLs) on the return for the year of a loss and file form FTB 3805Z for each year in which an NOL deduction is being taken. The election is irrevocable. Filing form FTB 3805Z constitutes an election and the annual designation to apply the enterprise zone or program area deduction.

Note: If you elect the enterprise zone or program area NOL deduction, you are prohibited by law from carrying over any other type of NOL from this year.

To determine which type of NOL will provide the greater benefit, businesses that have general or specific, LARZ, enterprise zone or program area NOLs or that may qualify for the new special NOLs should complete Worksheet V and forms:

- FTB 3805V, Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and NOL and Disaster Loss Limitations — Individuals, Estates and Trusts;
- FTB 3805Q, Net Operating Loss (NOL) Computation and NOL and Disaster Loss Limitations — Corporations; or
- FTB 3806, Los Angeles Revitalization Zone Booklet, Worksheet V (if your business is in more than one designated economic incentive area).

Alternative Minimum Tax. Businesses claiming an enterprise zone or program area NOL deduction must determine their NOL for alternative minimum tax purposes. Use Schedule P, to compute the NOL for alternative minimum tax purposes.

S Corporations. Enterprise zone or program area NOLs incurred prior to becoming an S corporation may not be used against S corporation income. IRC Section 1371(b).

However, an S corporation is allowed to deduct an enterprise zone or program area NOL incurred after the "S" election is made. An S corporation may use the NOL as a deduction against income subject to the 1.5 percent tax. The NOL is also passed through to the shareholders in the year the loss is incurred.

Corporations Subject to Apportionment.

The loss amount available for carryover for corporations that apportion their income is the amount of the corporation's loss (if any) after adding business income or loss apportionable to California to nonbusiness income or loss allocable to California under R&TC Chapter 17. The loss carryover is deducted against income apportionable and allocable to California in subsequent years.

Corporations that are members of a unitary group filing a combined report must separately compute loss carryover for each corporation in the group (R&TC Section 25108) using their individual apportionment factors.

Unlike the NOL treatment on a federal consolidated return, a loss carryover for one member included in a combined report may not be applied to the intrastate apportioned income of another member included in a combined report.

For water's-edge purposes, each corporation's NOL carryover is limited to the amount determined by recomputing the income and factors of the original worldwide combined reporting group as if the water's-edge election had been in force for the year of the loss. The carryover may not be increased as a result of the recomputation.

Instructions for Worksheet V — NOL Computation and Loss Limitations

Individuals with a current year loss complete Section A. Corporations with a current year loss complete Section B. Individuals and corporations with current year income and a prior year NOL carryover complete Section C.

Section A Computation of Current Year NOL — Individuals

Use this section to compute the NOL to be carried over to future years by individuals. Complete Section A only if you have a current year loss.

To compute an NOL, it is necessary to separate business income and deductions from nonbusiness income and deductions. See Part VI, Doing Business Within and Outside an Enterprise Zone or Program Area, for a complete discussion of business and nonbusiness income.

Line 4 through line 7 — You may deduct nonbusiness capital losses up to the amount of nonbusiness capital gains. You may not deduct any excess of nonbusiness capital losses over nonbusiness capital gains.

Line 8 — Enter deductions that are not from a trade or business and are not related to your employment (such as medical expense, alimony, charitable contributions and your contributions to individual retirement plans). If you do not itemize your deductions, enter the standard deduction. A casualty loss is considered a business expense whether or not it is connected with a trade or business; do not include it as a nonbusiness deduction.

Line 9 — Enter your income that is not from a trade or business (such as dividends, annuities, income from an endowment or interest earned on investments).

Line 10 through line 12 — You may subtract nonbusiness deductions only from nonbusiness income, including any nonbusiness capital gains that remain after deducting nonbusiness capital losses and other nonbusiness deductions. A net capital loss may not be deducted.

Line 17 — Add line 6 and line 16, but also reduce this amount by the difference between line 7 and line 10 from Schedule D, California Capital Gain or Loss Adjustments. For purposes of this computation, treat line 7 and line 10 of Schedule D as positive.

For purposes of this computation net nonbusiness capital losses cannot offset net business capital gains. Complete the following:

Is line 5 greater than line 4? Yes ☐ No ☐

Is line 13 greater than line 14? Yes ☐ No ☐

If you answered yes to either or both of these questions, add line 6 and line 16, but do not enter an amount greater than your capital loss deduction.

If you answered no to both of these questions, reduce line 6 by the difference between line 7 and line 10 of Schedule D.

Line 19 — This is your net operating loss. Generally, this loss will be more than the loss on line 3c. If line 9 is zero or more, you do not have an NOL.

Section B Computation of Current Year NOL — Corporations

Use this section to compute the NOL to be carried over to future years for corporations. Complete Section B only if the corporation has a current year loss.

Section C Computation of Net Operating Loss Carryover and Deduction

Use this section to compute the NOL deduction for individuals and corporations to reduce current year income from the enterprise zone or program area.

Line 1 — Enter the amount from Form 540, line 17; Form 100, line 18; Form 100S, the combined amount of line 16 and line 17; or Form 109, line 1 or line 10.

Apportioning corporations: Skip line 1 through line 5 and start on line 6. See instructions for line 6.

Line 2 – In modifying your income, deduct capital losses only up to the amount of capital gains. Enter as a positive number, any net capital losses included in line 1. Corporations, enter zero (-0-).

Line 3 – Corporations must reduce income by the disaster loss deduction and the deduction for excess net passive income.

Form 100 filers: Enter the amount from Form 100, line 20; Form 100S filers: Enter the total of the amounts from Form 100S line 17 and line 19; Form 109 filers and Form 540 filers: Enter -0-.

Line 6 – This is your modified taxable income. You may reduce this amount by your enterprise zone or program area deduction. Your enterprise zone or program area NOL deduction may not be larger than your modified taxable income. If your modified taxable income is a loss in the current year or if it limits the amount of NOL you may use this year, you must carry over the NOL to future years.

Apportioning corporations: To determine modified taxable income, complete another Schedule R (Side 1 only) to reflect the enterprise zone or program area average apportionment percentage. To do this, replace the average apportionment percentage (Schedule R, line 13a) with the enterprise zone or program area average apportionment percentage from Worksheet VI, line 4.

Enter the amount from Schedule R, line 24 (completed for enterprise zone or program area purposes) on the schedule below to determine the amount to enter on Worksheet V, Section C, line 6.

1. Enter the amount from Schedule R, line 24. _____
2. Enter the disaster loss from Form 100, line 20 or Form 100S, line 19. _____
3. Enter the excess net passive income deduction from Form 100S, line 17. _____
4. Add line 2 and line 3. _____
5. Subtract line 4 from line 1. Enter here and on Worksheet V, Section C, line 6. _____

Line 7

Enter the amount from line 6. If this amount is zero or negative, transfer the amounts from line 8 through line 15 column (b) to column (e), and skip to line 16.

Line 8 through line 15 – Enter the amounts on line 8 through line 15 as positive numbers.

In column (c), enter the smaller of the amount in column (b) or the amount in column (d) from the previous line.

In column (d), enter the result of subtracting column (c) from the balance on the previous line in column (d).

In column (e), enter the result of subtracting the amount in column (c) from the amount in column (b), as applicable.

Example:

(b) Carry-over from prior years	(c) Amount used this year	(d) Balance available to offset losses	(e) Carry-over
		$5,000
$ 500	$ 500	4,500	$ 0
6,000	4,500	0	1,500
200	0	0	200

Line 16 – Enter the amount of your current year NOL. For individuals, enter the amount from Section A, line 23. For corporations, enter the amount from Section B, line 5.

Line 17 – Add the amounts in column (b) through column (e). Enter the totals from line 17, columns (b), (c) and (e) on form FTB 3805Z, line 4a, line 4b, and line 4c respectively.

Your enterprise zone or program area NOL deduction for 1994 is the total of column (c). Enter this amount on the California tax return as follows:

- Form 100, line 19;
- Form 100S, line 18;

Part VI Doing Business Within and Outside an Enterprise Zone or Program Area, or in More than One Enterprise Zone or Program Area

The enterprise zone and program area tax incentives are limited to the tax on income attributable to the business operations within the zone or area. If the business is located both within and outside of or in more than one enterprise zone or program area, it must determine the portion of total business operations that are attributable to each enterprise zone or program area.

Use Worksheet VI, Apportionment Formula – Enterprise Zones and Program Areas, to determine the percentage of zone or area income to total income. This percentage determines the amount of the tax incentives that can be used.

Note: If the business location(s) is located solely within a single enterprise zone or program area, you do not have to complete this worksheet. Enter 100 percent on line 4 and go to Worksheet VII.

Business Income vs. Nonbusiness Income

Only business income is apportioned to the enterprise zone or program area in which operations are conducted.

Business income is income arising from transactions and activities in the regular course of the trade or business. Business income includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management and disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's regular trade or business operations.

In general, all transactions and activities of the business that are dependent upon or contribute to the operations of the economic enterprise as a whole constitute the trade or business.

When a corporation is part of a group of corporations engaged in a unitary business, the income and apportionment factors of the unitary group must be combined. For more information, see Schedule R.

Property Factor

The property factor is the average value of all real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the taxable or income year to produce business income.

Note: Property is included in the factor if it could be used during the year.

Property owned by the business is valued at its original cost. Original cost is the basis of the property for federal income tax purposes (prior to any federal adjustment) at the time of acquisition by the business, adjusted for subsequent capital additions or improvements, and partial dispositions because of sale or exchange.

Rented property is valued at eight times the net annual rental rate. The net annual rental rate for any item of rented property is the total rent paid the property, less aggregate annual subrental rates paid by subtenants. Allowance for depreciation is not considered.

The numerator of the property factor is the average value of the business's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used within an enterprise zone or program area during the year to produce enterprise zone or program area business income (column (b)).

The denominator of the property factor is the total average value of all real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the year to produce business income both within and outside the enterprise zone or program area (column (a)).

Payroll Factor

The payroll factor is the total amount paid to the business's employees for compensation for the production of business income during the taxable or income year.

Compensation means wages, salaries, commissions, and any other form of remuneration paid directly to employees for personal services.

Payments made to independent contractors or any other person not properly classified as an employee are excluded.

Compensation Within the Enterprise Zone or Program Area.

Compensation is considered to be within an enterprise zone or program area if any one of the following tests is met:

- the employee's services are performed within the geographical boundaries of an enterprise zone or program area; or
- the employee's services are performed both within and outside the enterprise zone or program area, but the services performed outside the enterprise zone or program area are incidental to the employee's service within the zone or area.

Note: Incidental means any temporary or transitory service rendered in connection with an isolated transaction.

Compensation Within and Outside the Enterprise Zone or Program Area.

If the employee's services are performed both within and outside the enterprise zone or program area, the employee's compensation will be attributed to the enterprise zone or program area if:

- the employee's base of operations is within and outside the enterprise zone or program area; or
- there is no base of operations in any other part of the state in which some part of the service is performed, but the place from which the service is directed or controlled is within the zone or area.

Base of operations is the permanent place from which employees start work and customarily return in order to receive instruction from the taxpayer or communications from their customers or other persons; to replenish stock or other material; to repair equipment; or to perform any other functions necessary in the exercise of their trade or profession at some other point or points.

The numerator of the payroll factor is the total compensation paid to employees for working within the enterprise zone or program area during the taxable or income year (column (b)).

The denominator of the payroll factor is the total compensation paid for the production of business income during the year both within and outside of the enterprise zone or program area (column (a)).

Use Worksheet VI if your business has income from sources within and outside an enterprise zone or program area

Use this figure to prorate losses where these amounts are to be divided between activities within and outside the enterprise zone or program area.

Part VII Computation of Credits

Credit Limitations. The amount of credit you may claim on your California tax return is limited by the amount of tax attributable to the enterprise zone or program area income. Use Worksheet VII on form FTB 3805Z, Side 2 to compute this limitation.

Credits you are otherwise eligible to claim may be limited. Do not apply credits against the minimum franchise tax (corporations and S corporations), the alternative minimum tax (corporations and individuals), the built-in gains tax (S corporations) or the net passive income tax (S corporations). Refer to the credit instructions in your tax booklet for more information.

S corporations and the application of enterprise zone or program area credits.

An S corporation may use its enterprise zone or program area credits to reduce enterprise zone or program area tax both at the corporate and shareholder levels.

An S corporation may use one-third of the enterprise zone or program area credit to reduce the tax on the S corporation's enterprise zone or program area income. In addition, S corporation shareholders may claim their distributive share of the entire amount of the enterprise zone or program area credits calculated under the personal income tax law.

Example: In 1994, an S corporation earned a $3,000 enterprise zone hiring credit. The S corporation will be able to use $1,000 of the credit ($$3,000 \times 1/3$), to offset the tax on the corporation's enterprise zone income.

The S corporation will also pass through a $3,000 credit to its shareholders to offset their individual tax on enterprise zone income.

S corporations must attach form FTB 3805Z to Form 100S, California S Corporation Franchise or Income Tax Return, to claim the tax credits. If form FTB 3805Z is not attached to the return, the credits may be disallowed.

Shareholders must attach Schedule K-1 (100S), Shareholder's Share of Income, Deductions, Credits, etc., to their individual tax return.

Carryover. If the amount of credit available this year exceeds your tax, you may carry over any excess credit to future years until the enterprise zone or program area ceases to exist or fifteen years, if longer.

Credit Code Number. Individuals — When transferring the hiring credits and sales and use tax credit to Form 540, you must use credit code number 176 for enterprise zones and number 177 for program areas. Using the incorrect code number may cause a delay in allowing the credit.

Instructions for Worksheet VII — Computation of Credits

Note: Worksheet VII is on Side 2 of form FTB 3805Z.

Part I

Line 2 — If your business is located entirely within the zone, enter 1.

Line 6a — Compute the tax as if the enterprise zone or program area taxable income represented all of your taxable income.

Individuals: Use the tax table or tax rate schedule for your filing status in your tax booklet. Exempt organizations: Use the applicable tax rate in your tax booklet.

Corporations and S corporations: Use the applicable tax rate.

Line 6b — Corporations and S corporations: If the amount on line 6b is the minimum franchise tax ($800), you cannot use your enterprise zone or program area credits this year. You should complete Part III of the worksheet to figure the amount of credit carryover.

Part II

Use Part II if you are a corporation, individual, estate or trust. Corporations that are subject to paying only the minimum tax go to Part III.

Line 8A, column (e) — Enter the amount from line 7. This is the amount of limitation based on the tax on enterprise zone or program area income.

Line 8A, column (f) — Enter the amount of credit that is used on Schedule P, column (b). The amount cannot be greater than the amount in column (e) or the amount computed on line 8B, column (d). Note: For most taxpayers this figure will probably come from Schedule P (540), Part IV, line 26 for individuals; Schedule P (100), Part II, line 21 for corporations; and Schedule P (541), Part IV, line 21 for estates and trusts.

Line 8B, column (b) — Enter the amount of the current year credit that was computed on Worksheet I.

Line 8B, column (c) — Enter the amount of the total prior year carryover of the credit (this is the amount of credit that was previously figured on Worksheet I minus the amount that was allowed to be taken on the prior year return).

Line 8B, column (d) — Add the amount of the current year credit in column (a) and the amount of the total prior year carryover in column (b).

Line 8B, column (e) — Compare the amount of line 8A, column (e) and line 8A, column (f). Enter the smaller amount.

Line 8B, column (g) — Subtract the amount of column (e) from the amount of column (d). Enter the result in column (g). This is the amount of credit that can be carried over to future years. Note: This carryover includes both the Schedule P limitation and the limitation based on enterprise zone or program area income.

Line 9A, column (e) — Subtract the amount of line 8B, column (e) from the amount of line 8A, column (e). If the result is zero, your remaining credits are limited and must be carried over to future years. In this case, enter the amounts from line 9B, column (d) on line 9B, column (g).

Line 9A, column (f) — Enter the amount of credit that is used on Schedule P, column (b). The amount cannot be greater than the amount in column (e) or the amount computed on line 9B, column (d).

Line 9B, column (b) — Enter the amount of the current year credit that was computed on Worksheet I.

Line 9B, column (c) — Enter the amount of the total prior year carryover of the credit (this is the amount of credit that was previously figured on Worksheet I minus the amount that was allowed to be taken on the prior year return).

Line 9B, column (d) — Add the amount of the current year credit in column (a) and the amount of the total prior year carryover in column (b).

Line 9B, column (e) — Compare the amount of line 9A, column (e) and line 9A, column (f). Enter the smaller amount.

Line 9B, column (g) — Subtract the amount of column (e) from the amount of column (d). Enter the result in column (g). This is the amount of credit that can be carried over to future years. Note: This carryover includes both the Schedule P limitation and the limitation based on enterprise zone or program area income.

Example:

The ABC Business has $8,000 of tax. The business computed a credit limitation based on zone income of $7,000 on Worksheet VII, line 7. The business has the following credits:

Hiring Credit — $ 500 and a $300 carryover from a prior year
 Sales and Use Tax Credit — $9,000

Worksheet VII, Part II would be computed as follows:

Line 11, column (e) – The amount in this column must be reduced by the amount of credit allowed on the previous column (f).

Example:

You have credits of: $5,000 hiring credit
